

ELSENBURG AGRICULTURAL TRAINING INSTITUTE

Online Application

What does my application status mean?

When applying to the Elsenburg Agricultural Training Institute, your application can go through a number of different statuses:

- In progress - your application has been started, but not yet submitted
- Submitted - your application has been received by the EATI for assessment, but proof of payment of the required application fee is outstanding
- Verify - your application is being verified by EATI staff
- Review - your application is being reviewed by EATI staff
- On hold - EATI requires some additional information before we can complete the assessment of your application
- Selection Ready - your application is ready to be considered by the EATI Selection Committee
- Conditionally Accepted - you've been made an offer by the EATI that you now have to respond to - all you need to do is respond
- Permit to register - you've accepted your offer to study at the EATI
- Declined – your application was not successful or you've turned down your offer to study at the EATI
- Waiting list – your application was not successful, however, your application will be reconsidered if space becomes available.

You can check the status of your application at any time, by logging in to your EATI application portal.
